

Teachers 4 Tutors was established in October of 2003 and opened in St. Charles County in July 2004 by Nicole Nunn-Faron. The company is comprised of all certified teachers who work individually with each student in the comfort and safety of the students' home, away from any competitive atmosphere and the distractions of traditional learning centers. Tutoring sessions may also be scheduled at other locations such as libraries or churches when necessary and if available.

Teachers 4 Tutors provides the initial testing or screening of each student to determine the child's strengths and weaknesses. Based upon the results, an educational action plan is established. They utilize the students own school materials as well as supplementary materials to focus on and master core classroom content. One benefit unique to this program is that they maintain professional communication with the classroom or content area teacher to provide a successful correlation between their tutoring sessions and the student's classroom achievement.

There are no long-term contracts to sign or minimum number of sessions and they are one of the most affordable tutoring programs in the area. Teachers 4 Tutors also provides support to students in home-school settings, to ensure the highest quality of education. Teachers 4 Tutors works with children from Pre - K thru High School in all content areas. They also offer ACT and SAT test preparation.
